To those who were personally acquainted with Dr. Chilton, the knowledge of his refined taste and keen perceptive qualities will be the best guarantee of the character of the collection now offered to the public. Numismatics must have been one of his favorite studies, as he commenced collecting American specimens when little more than twelve years of age, and until within a few weeks of his last illness attended all the prominent sales, purchasing with his usual good taste and an unabated ardor.

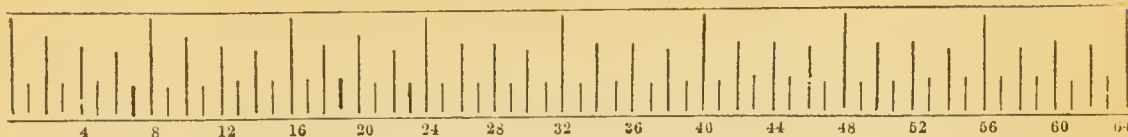

During a more than ordinarily earnest career in his legitimate calling, he found time to pursue his tastes for literature and the general sciences. But always modest in speaking of his own acquirements, few, with the exception of those of his own immediate circle, were aware how wide a range of subjects he embraced. His friends will, however, appreciate the appropriateness of dedicating the following lines from the In Memoriam to his memory:

Thy converse drew us with delight,
The men of rathe and riper years;
The feeble soul, a haunt of fears,
Forgot his weakness in thy sight.

The stern were mild when thou wert by,
The flippant put himself to school
And heard thee, and the brazen fool
Was softened, and he knew not why.

ANCIENT SILVER COINS.

GREEK, GREEK COLONIAL, PARTHIAN, ASSYRIAN, ETC.

"That Greek coins, as works of art, have been and still are the admiration of the most eminent artists, is a fact too well known to need remark. But it is not in this respect alone that they are prized by the learned and curious. As records of customs, ceremonies, and superstitions; as memorials of illustrious men, and as striking illustrations of ancient geography, the coins of Greece may take precedence of all other ancient monuments."—Ackerman's Numismatic Manual, page 13.

No.	Date.
30	209	Family of Galeria. Rev. Roma. Good.
175	210	Family of Æmilia. This coin commemorates the victory of Paulus Æmilius Lepidus over Perseus, the last King of Macedon, when that kingdom became a Roman province. On the reverse, Lepidus is seen standing at the side of a trophy, in an attitude of command, and Perseus and his two sons, as prisoners, on the other. Above is the word TER, signifying, possibly, that the triumph accorded to Paulus Æmilia for his final campaign in Macedonia lasted three days. Humphrey's Manual , p. 286. This piece is rare, and in excellent preservation.

225 679	1653	Another Commonwealth Shilling. Obv. and Rev. same as above. Date 1653. Very good.
450 680	1658	Shilling of Oliver Cromwell. Head of the Protector laureated with his name and style. Rev. the arms of England surecharged with his paternal coat, surmounted by a crown, and round the whole, the legend—Pax Quaeritur Bello. 1658. This date is according to Hawkins, exceedingly rare. By Simon. Very good.
1725 681	1658	Crown of Oliver Cromwell. Head of the Protector, laureated with his name and style. Rev. the arms of England surecharged with his paternal coat and surmounted by a regal crown, and around the whole, the legend—Pax Quaeritur Bello. Inscription on edge. This crown is by the inimitable Simon, and bears the exceedingly rare date, 1658. In good preservation.
600 682	1662	Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. arms of England and France quarterly in upper and lower shield; Ireland on the right and Scotland on the left. Latin inscription on the edge, "Deus et Tutamen, 1662." In excellent preservation and rare.
200 683	1663	Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. differs from the last, in having the arms of England, France, Scotland, and Ireland, each charging a separate shield. Good, but pierced.
200 684	1682	Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. four shields, each charged separately with the arms of England, France, Scotland, and Ireland; inscription on edge, "Tricesimo quarto." Good.
500 685	1696	Crown of William 3d. Laureated head of King. Rev. arms crosswise in four shields; Nassau in the centre. In fine preservation.

ENGLISH SILVER COINS—Continued.

200	686	1696	Crown of William 3d. Laureated head of the King; the bust slightly altered from No. 685. Rev. arms crosswise in four shields; Nassau in the centre. Very good.
300	687	1707	Crown of Queen Anne. Bust of the Queen; head bound with a fillet. Rev. the arms of England and Scotland impaled in the upper and lower shields: France at the right, Ireland at the left, with "E." under the bust, because struck in Edinburgh. It belongs to the Scottish series. In good preservation, and rare.
200	688	1708	Crown of Queen Anne; same as above. Good, but pierced.
235	689	1819	Crown of George 3d. The King's bust to the right laureate, hair short. "Georgius 3d, D. G. Britanniarum. Rex. F. D. 1819." Rev. St. George and the dragon, within the garter inscribed with its usual motto. The letters upon the edge of the coin are in high relief. This piece was engraved by Sig. Pistrucci. Good.
200	690	1820	Crown of George 3d. Same as above. Very good.
187	691	1804	Bank of England piece of George 3d. Obv. bust of the King to the right, laureated and draped. Rev. Britannia within an oval band, on which is inscribed, "Five shillings—dollar;" the oval surmounted by a mural crown. Very good.
212	692	1821.	Crown of George 4th. Bust of the King to the left, laureated, the neck bare. "Georgius 4th, D. G. Britannia Rex. F. D." Underneath the bust "B. P.," the initials of Pistrucci, by whom the die was engraved. Rev. the George and dragon, as upon the crowns of his father, but of larger dimensions, and omitting the garter. Very good and rare.

ENGLISH SILVER COINS—Continued.

	No.	Date.
1.00	693	1670	Half crown of Charles 2d. Bust of the King laureated. Rev. arms crosswise in four shields, star of the garter in the centre. Considerably rubbed, but even in this condition exceedingly rare.
1.00	694	1670	Half crown of Charles 2d. Same as above, and similar in condition.
2.00	695	1687	Half crown of James 2d. Bust of the King to the left, laureated; hair long. Rev. arms crosswise in four shields. In very fine condition and rare.
1.00	696	1685	Half crown of James 2d. Same as above, but considerably rubbed.
1.25	697	1689	Half crown of William and Mary. Busts of King and Queen to the right; he laureate; shoulders draped. Rev. square shield crowned, bearing quarterly England, Scotland, Ireland, and France; Nassau on an escutcheon of pretence. This is, perhaps, the only instance of the arms of France being placed on the fourth quarter. Very good, in this condition, rare.
1.00	698	1689	Half crown of William and Mary. Same as above. Very good.
1.00	699	1689	Half crown of William and Mary. Same as above. A little rubbed.
2.12	700	1695	Half crown of William 3d. Bust of King to the left, laureated and draped, with "40" below. Rev. shield, crowned. From the repetition of the crest of Scotland in the shield, we believe this to be a Scottish piece. Very good.
1.00	701	1696	Half crown of William 3d. Bust of the King, laureated and draped; bust to the right, and below "B.," for Bristol. Rev. small shields, crosswise. Very good, but pierced.
1.00	702	1697	Half crown of William 3d. Same as above. Rev. larger shields; below the bust "N.," for Norwich. Somewhat rubbed.

/25	703	1708	Half crown of Queen Anne. Bust of Queen, filleted and draped; "E." under the bust, because struck in Edinburgh. Rev. arms of Scotland and England impaled in the upper and lower shields; France at the right, and Ireland at the left; star of the garter in the centre. Very fine and rare.
/00	704	1746	Half crown of George 2d. Bust of King; Lima under the bust. Rev. shields, with arms crosswise—1746. Rubbed.
/00	705	1812	Bank token, 3 shillings, 1812. Good.
/00	706	1824	Half crown of George 4th. Laureated bust of the King. Rev. arms in a square shield, crowned; within, the garter, with its usual motto, and the collar of the order, with its appendant badge; underneath, the date, Anno 1824. This reverse was engraved by Merlin. Splendid.
/00	707	1834	Half crown of William 4th. Rev. same as the crowns of this reign (which were not issued for circulation.) Anno 1834. Good.
/00	708	1846	Half crown of Victoria. The likeness of her Majesty is excellent, and copied from a model in wax taken from life by Mr. Wyon, the chief engraver for the Mint. Good.
/5	709	1853	Victoria florin. Head of Queen crowned. Victoria D.G. Brit. Reg. F.D. 1853. Rev. arms crosswise: rose, thistle and shamrock, in angles; one florin, one-tenth of a pound.
/0	710	1671	Shilling of Charles 2d. Head of King, laureated, and flowing hair, bust mantled. Rev. shields crosswise; arms of Scotland repeated. Below the bust a thistle. A Scottish piece, and believed to be rare. Very good.
5	711	1663	Shilling of Charles 2d. The first year in which these pieces were milled. Rare and good for this date.

ENGLISH SILVER COINS—Continued.

	No.	Date.
150	712	1693	Shilling of William and Mary. Busts of King and Queen to the right, shoulders draped; he laureated. Rev. shields crosswise; Nassau in the centre; M. and W. in cipher in the angles. Extremely fine and rare.
40	713	1696	Shilling of Wm. 3d. Bust of King, laureated and draped. Rev. shields crosswise with arms of Nassau. Very good.
62	714	1711	Shilling of Queen Anne. (Third bust.) Obv. head of the Queen filleted and draped. Rev. arms of England and Scotland impaled in the upper and lower shields. France to the right, Ireland to the left, and the star of the order of the garter in the centre. In fine preservation, and exceedingly rare.
75	715	1723	Shilling of George 1st. Bust of King to the right, the hair long and laureate; the shoulders invested with armor, a slight drapery over. The legend contains all the King's English titles, with the additions of F. D. for Fidei Defensor, then first inserted, though a title of the British sovereigns ever since conferred by the Pope upon King Henry 8th. Rev. arms crosswise, cross of the garter in the centre, bearings changed by the introduction of the King's German dominions. S. S. C. in angles, denoting that the silver was derived from the South Sea Company. Very good.
40	716	1743	Shilling of George 2d. Head of the King to the left, hair long, laureate; body invested with armor, upon the shoulder a lion's head, drapery around the breast. Rev. shields crosswise, roses in angles for West of England silver. This piece is engraved by Tanner, and is in excellent preservation.

#150	2960		Finely executed portrait of Bishop Provoost, (the first Bishop of New York,) by Benjamin West, in his full episcopal robes, and wearing the large English episcopal wig, which he only of all our bishops ever wore. Samuel Provoost was born in the city of New York, on the 26th of February, (O. S.) 1742. He accepted a call as assistant minister of Trinity Church, in 1766, but showing too much sympathy with the Colonies, in their disputes with England, to suit its members, who took sides with the mother country, Mr. Provoost resigned his post, and retired to a small farm which he had purchased at East Camp, then in Dutchess County, N. Y. When the Convention which formed the first Constitution of the State of New York, met at Kingston, in 1777, Mr. Provoost was elected Chaplain, but refused the office, saying: "In the beginning of the present war, I remarked with great concern that the Church clergy were unanimous in opposing the measures of a vast majority of their countrymen. As I entertained political opinions opposite to those of my brethren, I was apprehensive that a profession of them might be imputed to an ungenerous desire of rising on their ruin. To obviate any suspicions of this kind, I have formed a resolution never to accept any preferment during the present contest, although as a private person I have been, and I shall always be, ready to encounter any danger that may be incurred in the defense of our invaluable liberties." The same motives led him to decline the rectorship of St. Michael's Church, Charleston, South Carolina, and another offer to take charge of King's Chapel, Boston. Yet, during this time, he writes: "I have no salary or income of any kind, the estate which formerly supported me being in the hands of the enemy, ever since they took possession of New York, and I am prevented by the canons of the Church from entering into any secular employment." Mr. Provoost remained upon his farm from 1770 to 1784. His patient endurance of poverty and privation gained for him the reputation with the American party of a patriot clergyman, and almost a martyr. When the war of Independence was brought to a close, in 1783, a friend of Mr. Provoost writes to him from New York city: "I have to congratulate you upon the happy alteration in affairs here. You have a very strong party, who will spare no exertions for you. They even talk of making you Bishop of New York;" which, being determined by the members of the Convention of the Diocese, in 1786, he visited England in company with his friend, Dr. White, for consecration. It was at this time that West, then in the zenith of his fame, is believed to have painted this picture. The venerable Dr. Francis, in his discourse before the New York Historical Society, in 1857, remarks, concerning Bishop Provoost, that "his learning, his liberality, and his patriotism have been too much overlooked." Satin wood inlaid Cabinet for Medals, (formerly belonging to Governor De Witt Clinton; the drawers lined with dark velvet.

#350-2963

Ornamental Iron Fire Proof Safe, with white marble slab. Made by Messrs. Valentine & Butler especially for this collection, under the immediate direction of Dr. Chilton. The cabinet work is very superior. It contains two closets for securing valuable papers and jewelry, and sixty-six drawers, sixteen inches wide by fourteen three-eighths inches long, running on grooves, and resting directly upon one another, thus economising space. Sixty of the drawers are one inch deep, and six prepared for larger medals two inches in depth.

The doors work easily on their hinges, and are lined with maroon velvet with gilt bordering.

OUTSIDE DIMENSIONS.—Height, 5 feet  $7\frac{1}{2}$  inches; width, 3 feet  $10\frac{1}{2}$  inches; depth, 23 inches.

The above is a very correct representation.
